TO-NIGHT'S BIG BATTLE.

Kennedy and McNabb Slated For What is Anticipated to Be a Very Warm Fistic Argument—A Good Preliminary Bout.

A fast and hot article of boxing is promised at the Metropolitan club's Fulton arena to-night. The main bout will be between Eddie Kennedy, of Pittsburgh, and Rufus McNabb, of Philadelphia, matched to go twenty rounds to a decision, at 135 pounds, weigh in at 3 p. m. to-day. There will be a ten-round preliminary between Buzz Aubur, of this city, and Frank Salisbury, of East Liverpool, which will be no small thing, for both boys are clever and are anxious to win.

The way Kennedy disposed of Jack Waldron endeared him to local sports and he has been keeping up his record until he is being freely mentioned for lightweight championship honors. He goes at his man from the go. Not so much is known here of McNabb, but he is said to be a good one and the record he furnishes is certainly a strong recommendation to his ability. He is at all confidence and as he has made good showings every time he entered a ring there is a treat in store for admirers of fistic art is fightin'. A bang-up affair will be appreciated after the Bonner-Finnegan love feast.

An assurance of the good work to result can be had when it is known that the straight Marquis of Queensbury rules will govern. There will be no more "clean breaks" at the club, much to the satisfaction of lovers of the game hereabouts. The Aubur-Salisbury bout will start at 8:30, the main event an hour later.

Owing to the slim house, ten rounds was all Joe Brunner would agree to with Buzz Aubur at the Drovers' Home club, Saturday night. The going was fast, with Aubur having the better of it. He was much heavier and Brunner couldn't land on him right. The decision was a draw.

Fred Fox asks the Intelligencer to issue a challenge on behalf of Joe Hopkins to Jack McClelland, Louie Campbell, Kid Brood or Marty McCue, before the Metropolitan club. Fox may be addressed, P. O. Box 2018, New York City.

ALL IN GOOD CONDITION.

Long Distance Race Contestants Show Little Exhaustion.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—There was a marked contrast in the condition of the bicyclists who finished in the six days' race which was completed Saturday night at the Madison Square Garden, to their exhausted condition at the finish of the race last year. To-day saw all of the successful riders in excellent physical condition, and several of them took long walks this afternoon.

Miller, after the race, was taken to the baths. He retired at 4 a. m. and arose at noon, and after eating a hearty breakfast left his hotel, and in company with his wife called on friends. Waller, his partner in the race, retired at the same hour. He, too, was given a Turkish bath after the race. He slept until 4 o'clock this afternoon. Both men expressed themselves as being satisfied with the race, and said they felt as though they could start on another week of racing.

Mayo-McEachern, the team that finished second, were early up, and about the corridors of the hotel at which they are staying. Fischer and Chevalier, the French team, at noon to-day, with the entire foreign delegation of trainers and managers, breakfasted at a French restaurant. Victor Breyer, the manager in chief, said he was satisfied with the place his men had taken in the race. His men, he said, would remain in the city until the question of the proposed six days' race in Boston had been definitely settled. They would continue training at the Garden.

Gimm and Pierce, the winners of the third prize, seemed to be the only dissatisfied riders to express their feelings openly. Pierce said that his team had been unjustly deprived of a number of laps, which accounted for their not winning.

The Cycler Won.
CINCINNATI, Ohio, Dec. 10.—The series of races between Harry Gibson, middle-distance champion bicyclist, and Reno Runck, champion roller skater, closed last night at Music hall. Gibson won two races and the series. In last night's contest, which was an Australian pursuit race, Gibson caught Runck after pedaling eleven miles and seven-and-a-half laps. The time was 36:25.

Galloping Consumption.

Today it's "only a cough," to be sure; only a tickling in the throat.

But what about tomorrow? Then come the pain in the lungs, the hard cough, night sweats, loss of flesh, and hemorrhages. Now the doctor says, "It's galloping consumption." Why wait?

The Daily Chronicle of Wheeling's Progressive Neighbor.

Yesterday morning, at the North Wheeling hospital, occurred the death of Mrs. John Tierney. Mrs. Tierney, for many years had been suffering with Bright's disease, and about one year ago underwent an operation, from which she recovered, and it was thought she was permanently cured. About ten days ago she was taken back to the hospital, where she underwent another operation for the same disease, and her condition being so weak her recovery from the first was considered doubtful. Deceased was forty-three years of age. Mrs. Tierney had many friends in this city who will read with regret the announcement of her untimely demise. The funeral will occur to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock from St. Mary's church, in this city, of which deceased was a member, and an ardent worker for its cause. BELLAIRE HAPPENINGS.

Matters of Interest in the Metropolis of Belmont County.

The stockholders of the Aetna Glass and Manufacturing Company have made a proposition looking to a revival of that industry here. The furnace and lehrs are in fair shape, and can be started at once. The company will turn the plant in at $22,000, and take that all in stock in the new company, thus permitting the subscribers who raise $22,000 or $23,000 now to control the new enterprise. There are a number who regard this as a very fair move, as the operation of this plant will distribute at least $5,000 per month in wages here, and will give employment to at least one hundred and fifty or two hundred more persons in town. There are at least two other projects on foot that seem likely to be consummated early in the new year, if not this year.
